House In The Wood Camp has provided campers with positive alternatives to negative urban lifestyles within the context of an outdoor camp experience since 1952. The four year Leaders in Training (LIT) Program provides teens with a unique opportunity to experience life beyond the hardships and violence of urban living while helping them to develop solid life-management skills, teaching them to make healthy choices, and setting them on a course for a successful future. The LITs learn the ins-and-outs of running a camp, visit college campuses, participate in corporate career days, and develop an understanding of opportunities that are open to them.*
